Seniors – Important updates

Seniors: You are one step closer to earning your diploma in June! Here are some important updates to keep you on track.

- Community Service Hours – Community service hours for ALL seniors are due by January 24th. Service hour forms can be found here, on the counseling website and outside of the counselors' offices. Contact Jenn Coe at jcoe@vashonsd.org for more information.
- PE Waiver forms - if you completed a fall sport or participated in other sports during high school but have not yet submitted a waiver form, you must do this by January 24th. Winter sports waivers will be accepted after the season is completed.
- Mid-Year Transcripts - Counselors will be sending mid-year reports to colleges after semester 1 grades post the week of February 3rd. If you have already added your counselor to your Common Application, your Mid-Year Report, which includes your semester 1 grades, you have no additional action to take. If you need official transcripts sent to programs that are not on the Common App these need to be ordered via Parchment. For details go to the VHS website and click on the "Transcripts" tab. Seniors: it is up to you to let colleges know if there are any unexpected grades or changes to your semester 2 schedule BEFORE the transcripts are sent.
- Financial Aid - All seniors are encouraged to fill out a federal (FAFSA) or state (WASFA) application for financial aid, both of which are free. See above for more details. There is money available for apprenticeships, technical and trade schools, community college as well as 4-year universities. Contact Jenn Coe at jcoe@vashonsd.org for more information.

Juniors - PSAT Updates and Next Steps

While many colleges have moved to making SAT/ACT testing an optional part of the application process, it is critical that students research the admissions requirements for any post-secondary institutions they may be considering applying to. Typically, students who plan to attend a 4-year college that may require a college admissions test should plan to take either an ACT or SAT at least one time before the end of junior year.

Reviewing the PSAT results from October is a great way for juniors to prepare for the SAT. Score reports for the PSAT are now available to all juniors who took the test.

How to Access Your PSAT Scores

- If you provided your email address on your answer sheet on test day, you'll receive an email notifying you of when your scores are available. The email will have a unique access code that will connect you to your scores online. If you didn't provide an email address on your answer sheet on test day, you can still access your scores online.
- Note: In either instance, if you haven't already done so, you'll be asked to set up a free College Board account before you can view your scores.
- Don't have a College Board account? Save time and set one up now.
- Once you've received your scores, learn how you can use your scores for practice, scholarship opportunities, and more in this video and find more detailed information about your score HERE and see a powerpoint with details about free practice HERE.

If you did not take the PSAT this year you can also access free Khan Academy Prep via the College Board website. For more information about the SAT including upcoming dates, test sites, and registration info go to <https://www.collegeboard.org/>.

The ACT is another way students can fulfill the admissions test for 4-year colleges which require this. For upcoming dates, test sites, and registration info go to <https://www.act.org/>. Free prep materials including ACT practice tests and study guides can be found here.

JUNIORS interested in attending 4-year colleges which require ACT or SAT, or who are unsure of the requirement should plan to take at least one of these tests by June 2025. The sooner you sign up, the better your chances of securing a test at a location that is as close to where you live as possible. Students can register HERE

ASVAB Testing: 9:30 - 12 pm, Feb. 11th at VHS Library

The Armed Services Vocational Aptitude Battery (ASVAB) test is a free, standardized, multiple choice test that tests language, math, science and technical skills. It is required for entry into the military but it can also be very useful for students not interested in the military. For example:

- The ASVAB Career Exploration Program helps students identify their strengths and interests.
- The ASVAB can help students satisfy the state assessment pathways graduation requirements with a qualifying score (check with counselor to see if this is a good option for you).
- Results are NOT shared with the military (unless you choose to do so) and students are not required to talk with a military recruiter.
- It's FREE.
- The ASVAB is available to 10th - 12th graders and is scheduled for February 11th, 9:30 am-12 pm in the VHS Library.
- Sign up by February 7th with Jenn Coe: jcoe@vashonsd.org, (206) 463-8609 or stop by room 2007.
- Free practice tests are available online.
- Students need to bring a fully charged Chromebook or laptop (no tablets) with pop up blockers disabled in order to take the test.

Running Start Interest Meeting: Thursday, February 27th, 6:30 pm (virtual meeting; link to follow)

Any 10th or 11th grade students interested in participating in Running Start are required to attend this meeting. The meeting will take place virtually and is open to parents/guardians as well. More details will be sent out as the date approaches. This session will be led by VHS school counselors.

Course Selections for the 2025-26 School Year

During the month of February, counselors will be visiting 9th-11th grade classrooms to facilitate activities which will ultimately lead to students selecting their courses for the 2025-26 school year. During these visits, students will review their transcripts, track their progress towards graduation and have an opportunity to ask counselors questions so that they are making informed choices during course selection in March. Parents/Guardians can anticipate additional communications regarding the course selection process.
